Mercy College Partners with New York Police Department to Offer Tuition Assistance Partnership

Mercy College is proud to announce a new partnership with the New York City Police Department to offer all employees a discounted tuition rate at any of our four campuses. Whether it be an undergraduate, graduate, part-time, full-time or on-line, Mercy College offers the flexibility to earn a degree that works with any schedule.

Through this program, NYPD employees, regardless of title or rank can receive as much as a 33% reduction in tuition. Details include:

- 33% reduction on full-time rate for full-time undergraduate programs
- 30% reduction on per course rate for part-time undergraduate programs
- 28% - 30% reduction on Graduate per course rate (varies by program)
- Program cannot be combined with other Mercy College scholarships or grants

Michael Zarrilli, Senior Director of Graduate Admissions stated, “As a former police officer, who attended Mercy College while proudly serving my community, I know the challenges that officers face while embarking on a path toward a higher education. As a graduate of the Organizational Management '06 and M.B.A. '14 programs, I can say from firsthand experience that the faculty, staff and academic programs assisted me at every step of the way, in order to achieve my life and career goals. I am delighted that Mercy has implemented this differential tuition program with New York’s Finest. We are looking forward to assisting the rank and file of the NYPD with furthering their education and careers.”

Mercy College is committed to expanding access to higher education and is looking forward to working with the NYPD to provide tuition assistance to those who serve and protect our communities.
