

Who's in charge of
New York State labor law?
Is it the Legislature?
Or is it...

KING HOWARD

In 1998, the New York State Legislature gave New York City police officers the right to be compensated like other police officers performing similar duties.

In 2015, state arbitrator Howard Edelman ignored the will of the Legislature, shredded the Taylor Law and decreed that New York City police officers should remain the lowest paid police officers in this area.
