

“New York City police salaries are a laughingstock; throughout the nation everyone knows that city cops are underpaid.”—NYC Labor Commissioner Bob Linn

Can you forget I said that, Howard?
I need you to say “the cops are well compensated” with a straight face.

Don't worry, Bob. I can say anything with a straight face.

Arbitrator Howard Edelman and Labor Commissioner Bob Linn make a great team. They've both acknowledged that New York City police officers are paid significantly less than their local and national counterparts, but they both think that cops deserve raises below the rate of inflation.

Arbitrator Howard Edelman: Hopelessly Compromised

Patrolmen's Benevolent Association of the City of New York

125 Broad Street, 11th Floor, New York, NY 10004 • 212-233-5531

Patrick J. Lynch, President

www.nycpba.org