

New York City police officers are paid up to 30% less than the market rate.

It's time to fix the police pay gap. If not now, when?

“ The one thing the mayor pounds into our heads throughout this budget process is an old African saying that ‘the time to fix the roof is when the sun is shining.’ The sun’s shining a little bit on the city’s budget at the moment and one of the things we’re doing is we are fixing the roof. ”

– First Deputy Mayor Anthony Shorris

Patrolmen's Benevolent Association

of the City of New York
125 Broad St., 11 Fl., NY, NY 10004
212-233-5531

Patrick J. Lynch, President
www.nycpba.org