

How do Mayor de Blasio and Speaker Mark-Viverito take care of their “moral obligations?”

Central Park Five settlement:
$41 million

Benefits for injured police officers:
Nothing

Mayor de Blasio paid off his political debts by adding $26 million to the Central Park Five settlement over City lawyers' objections. But he and the Speaker think it's just too expensive to give recently-hired NYPD officers the same disability benefits as every other police officer in New York State. Their priorities speak for themselves...

Support equal benefits for injured police officers
