New York Patrolmen's Benevolent Association Membership Study

John McLaughlin
March 15, 2016

Presentation Outline:

1. Methodology
2. Police Officers' Work Environment
3. Mayor Bill de Blasio Analysis
4. Commissioner Bill Bratton Analysis
5. Job Satisfaction Analysis
6. Other Key Findings

1. Methodology:

The Patrolmen's Benevolent Association of the City of New York commissioned McLaughlin & Associates to conduct an Internet survey of its members. The Internet survey of 6,004 respondents was conducted between February 9th and February 26th, 2016.

There was no sampling used in this survey (every NYC PBA member was invited to participate) so it is not appropriate to report a statistical margin of sampling error. For comparison: had this been a sampled survey that yielded 6,004 interviews from a larger universe of potential participants the sampling process would have introduced that error 19 out of 20 times (95% confidence) and would be plus or minus 1.3 percentage points. The sampling error for this survey is zero, but sampling error is just one form of error or bias that can affect survey results.

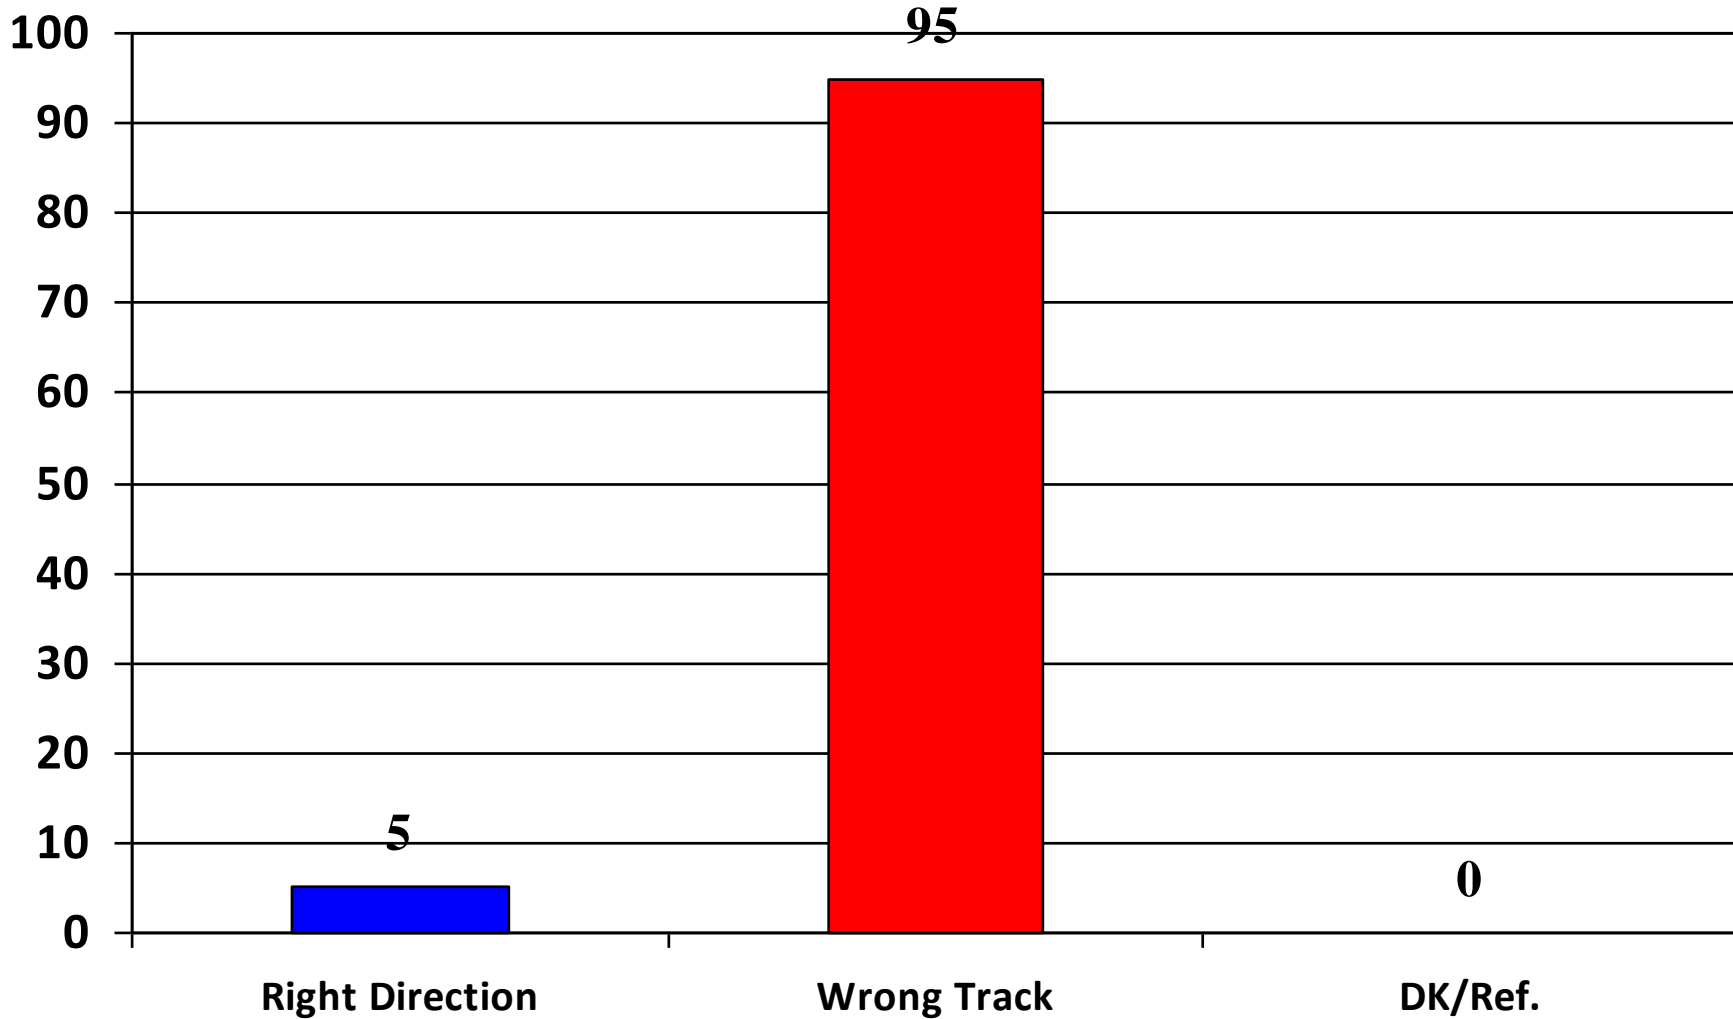

The actual response rate was very high. We received 6,004 completed surveys from a universe of over 24,000 members. Among the total membership, 12,548 members with emails on file with the PBA received an invitation to take the survey.

2. Police Officers' Work Environment

The overwhelming majority of respondents, near unanimity, say New York City is heading down the wrong track; they say they feel less safe than they did 2 years ago; and they are concerned their relationship with the public has worsened.

- A. Ninety-five percent (95%) of the respondents said New York City is heading down the wrong track.
- B. Eighty-seven percent (87%) said New York City has become “less safe” in the past two years. The majority, 55%, say “a lot less safe”.
- C. In comparison to years past, 95% of the PBA members say they personally feel “less safe” “while on duty as a police officer”. Again, the majority, 58%, say “much less safe”.
- D. Ninety six percent (96%) say the relationship between the NYPD and the public has worsened in the past few years. Seventy percent (70%) say it has “greatly worsened”.
- E. The top reasons cited for the worsened relationship include: Mayor de Blasio and/or the City Council (17%), a lack of support/respect (16%).

In your opinion, why has the NYPD's relationship with the public worsened?

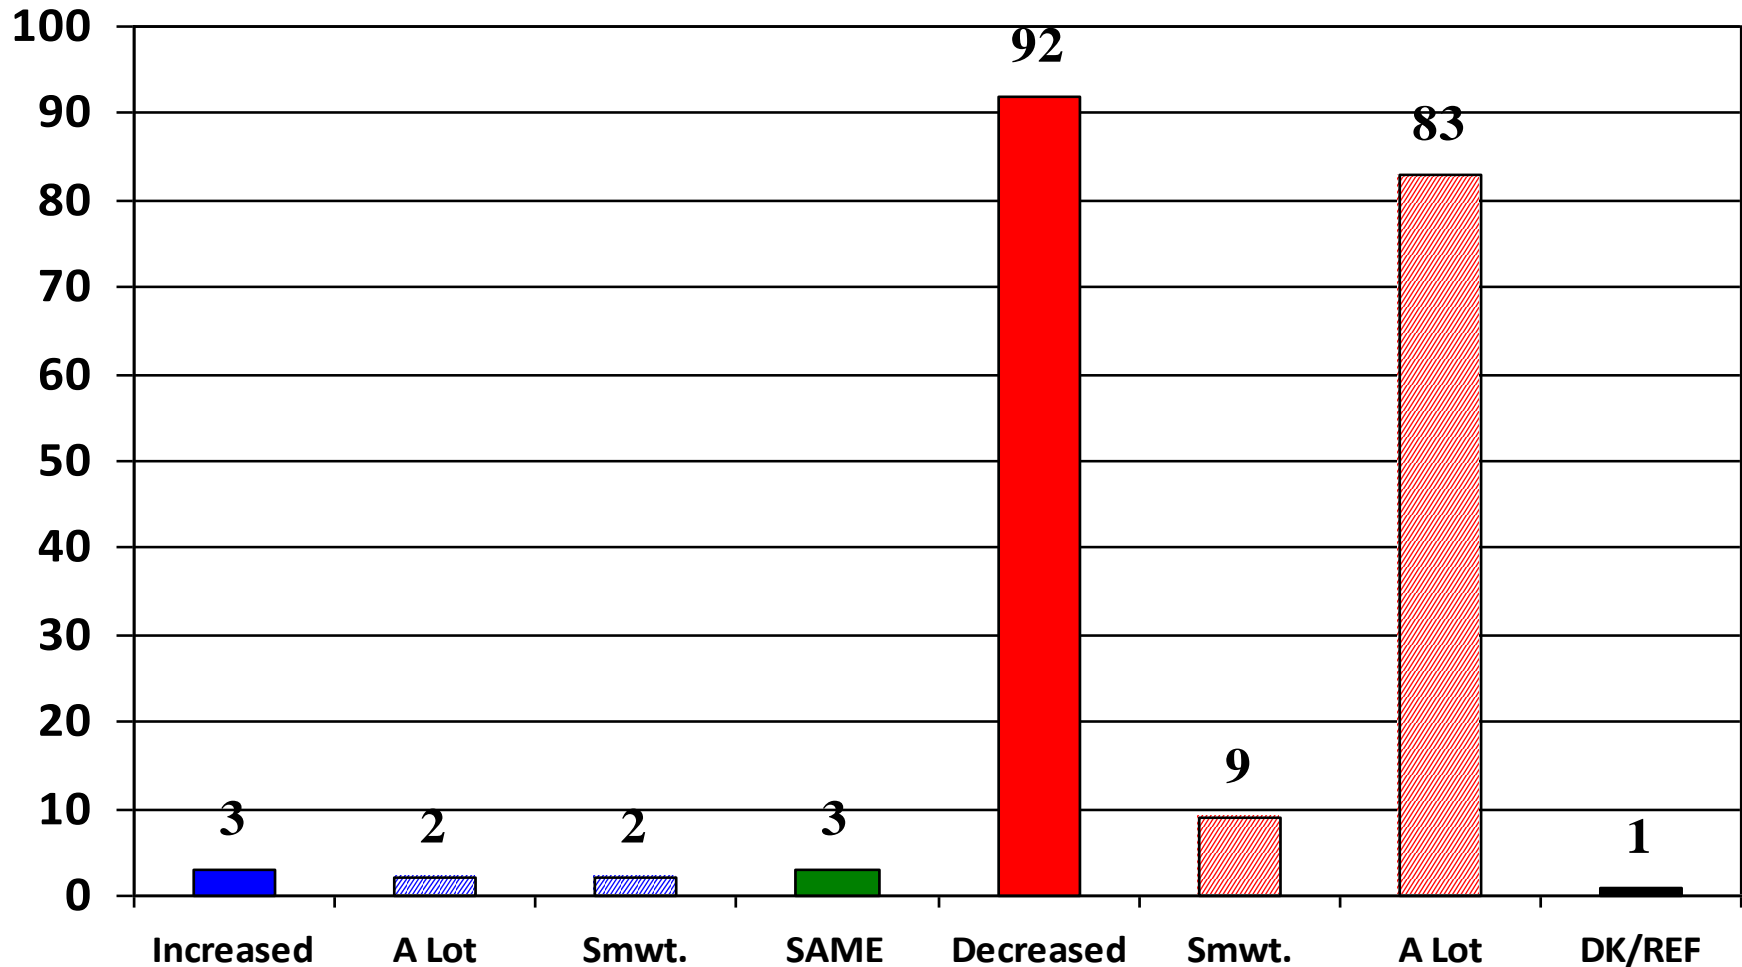

3. Mayor Bill de Blasio Analysis

Mayor Bill de Blasio receives nearly unanimous negative ratings from members of the New York City Police Department. de Blasio's lack of support for the police drives his negatives.

- A. Ninety-two percent (92%) of the respondents say support for the police has decreased during the de Blasio administration, when compared to past administrations. Eighty-three percent (83%) say support has “decreased a lot”.
- B. Ninety-six percent (96%) are unfavorable towards de Blasio, with 88% very unfavorable.
- C. When “representing the best interest of New York City Police Officers”, 95% give de Blasio a “poor” job rating.
- D. When asked what they liked “most” about de Blasio, 62% cited “nothing”, 8% said “his term is up”, and 3% said he’s a “1 term mayor”.
- E. When asked what they liked “least”, “anti-cop” received 18%. Only 17% could not cite what they “liked least”. 5 in 6 police officers cited a negative.
- F. Ninety-six percent (96%) disapprove of de Blasio’s “policing and public safety policies”.
- G. Ninety-seven percent (97%) say de Blasio has created an environment where criminals feel emboldened and 95% say de Blasio created an environment in New York City that is combative towards police.
- H. City Council Speaker Melissa Mark-Viverito (85% unfavorable) and the New York City Council (97% negative job rating), both receive poor ratings from the membership.

Comparing the de Blasio administration to past administrations, would you say that support for police officers and the work you do has...?

5. Job Satisfaction Analysis

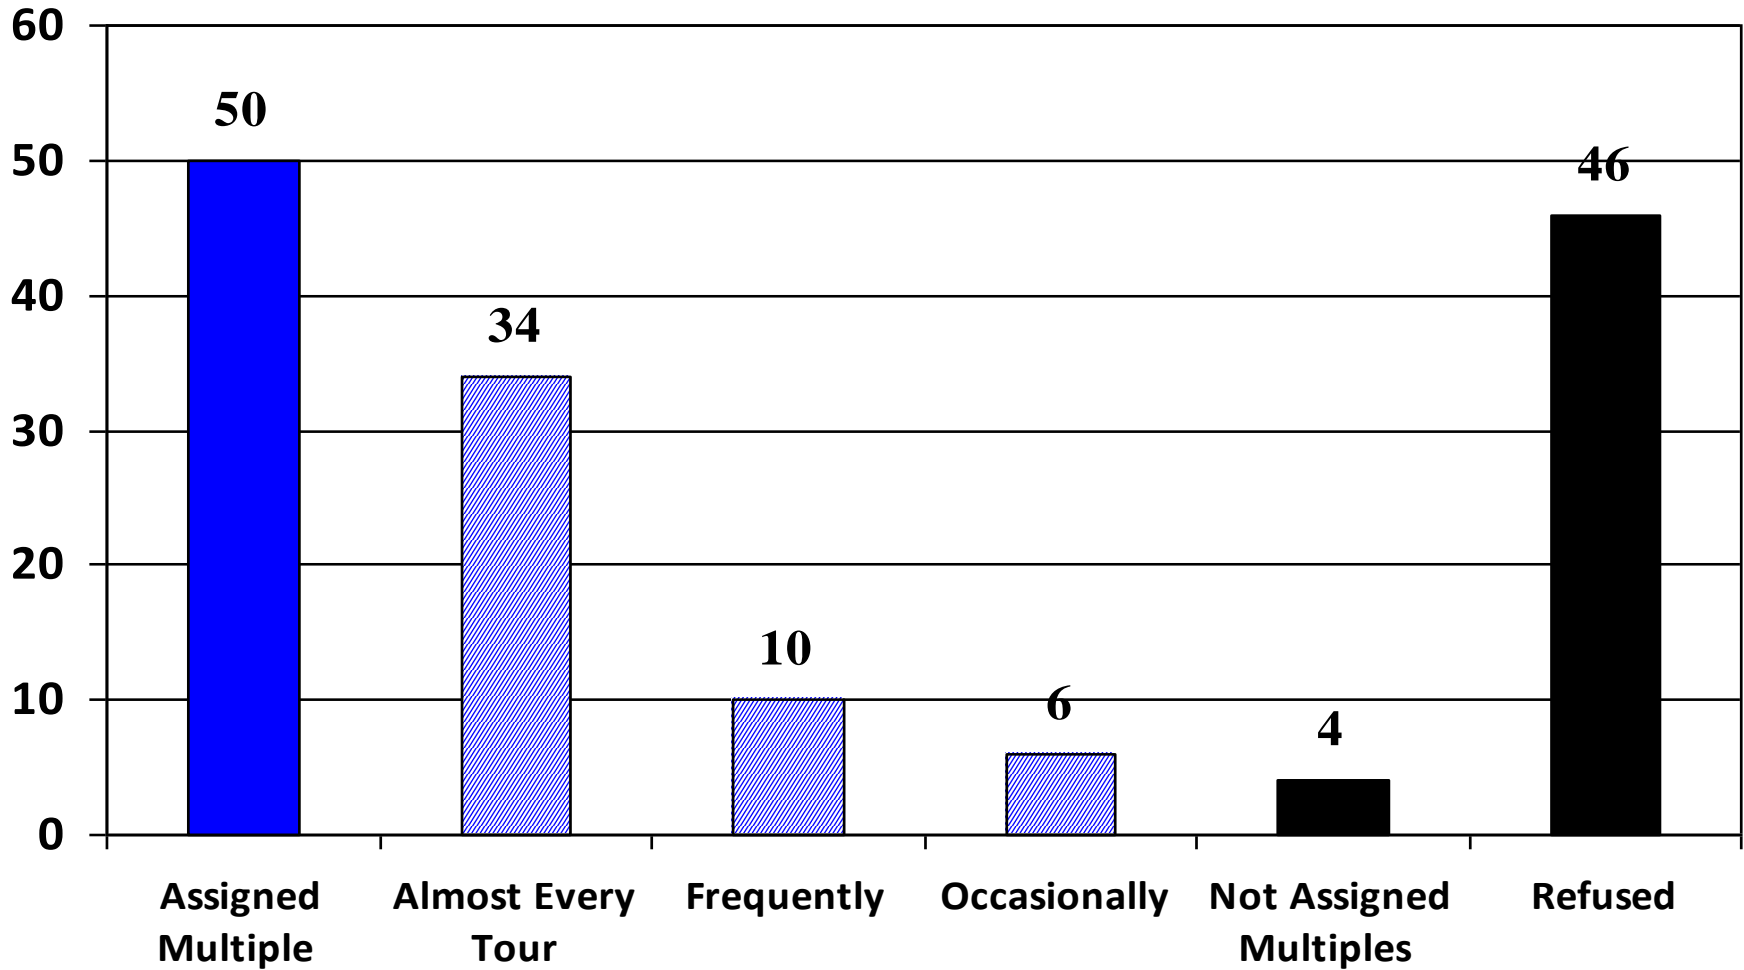

The Mayor's lack of support, as well as salary and personal safety concerns, are leading to low morale among members of the NYPD.

- A. Thirty-five percent (35%) of the respondents cited “raise/pay” as the number one change to improve the lives and working conditions.
- B. Eighty-nine percent (89%) said they would leave the NYPD for another law enforcement agency with better pay in the New York City area. 85% would leave the New York City area if offered better pay.
- C. Salary and other direct compensation (67%) are the most important part of their compensation package, followed by Pension Benefits (22%).
- D. Direct Supervisors (38% positive / 61% negative) and Commanding Officers (30% positive / 69% negative) receive net negative job ratings when it comes to representing the best interest of members of the NYPD.
- E. Compared to years past, 86% of the respondents are “less likely” to recommend a career with the New York City Police Department to their own children or relatives.

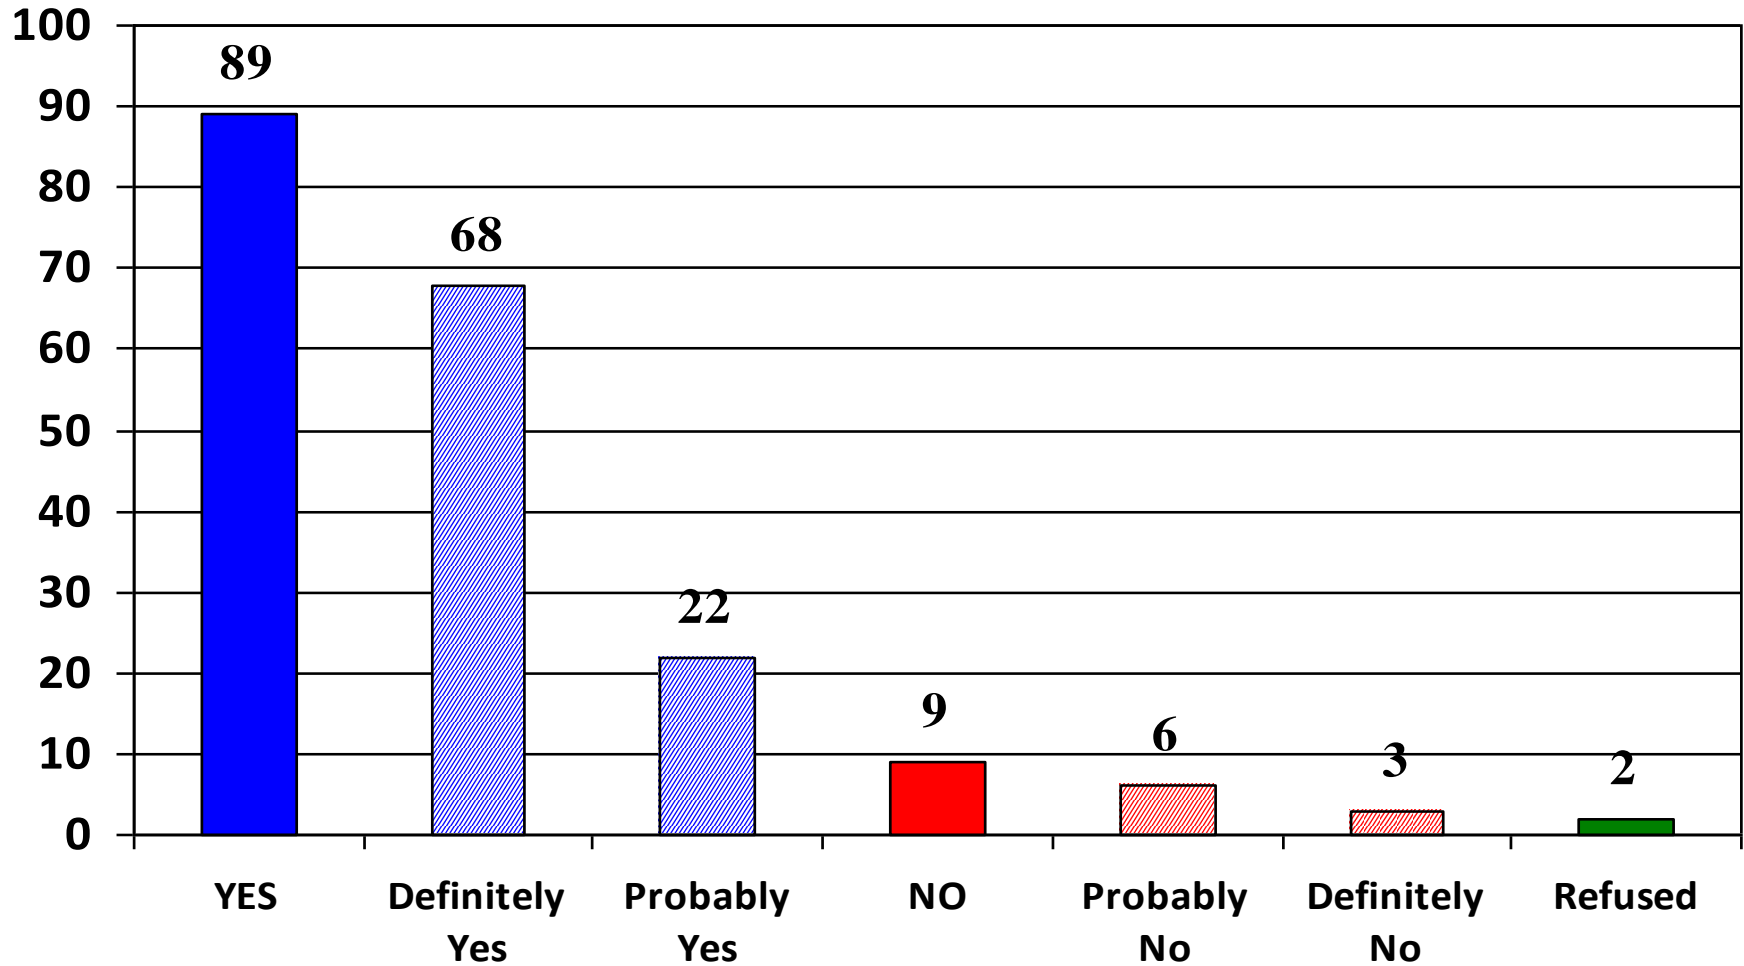

If you could make just one change to improve the lives and working conditions of New York City police officers, what would it be?

While on patrol during the past month, how often were you assigned more than one job/radio run at a time?

If you were offered a position with another law enforcement agency in the New York City area with a better salary, would you leave the NYPD to work elsewhere?
